

Bible Experiment:

Acts of the Apostles

Leader Check-in

What do you already know (or think you know) about the book of Acts? What expectations do you have for this bible experiment experience?

Discuss

How did this presentation of Scripture compare to your prior experience with the text? Was there anything that stood out to you this time that you hadn't noticed before?

Make a list of all the characters you remember in Acts. Who do you identify with most?

Can you find in Scripture the account of Stephen as he is brought before the Sanhedrin council? Read the passage aloud to the group. How does reading the text compare to hearing it?

Is it easier (more impactful) for you to read the Bible or to hear the stories? Would you like to make any changes to the way you typically engage the Bible in light of your learning style?

How do we as Christians still fail to welcome and accept those who are different than us?

What can we learn from the example set by Paul? How might God be challenging you to use your privilege and influence to bring His kingdom in the lives of those around you?
